Rob has been our realtor of choice for the past ten years. He helped us buy our first house when our young family was just starting out and ten years later he has just helped us with the purchase of our dream house. Rob is one of those pros that you come to rely on and trust for the unvarnished truth just as you do with your family dentist, doctor or accountant. We can tell Rob exactly what we need and want and we know we'll always get the straight goods back. That's worth its weight in gold. We would recommend Rob in a heartbeat to anyone thinking of buying or selling at anytime but especially in these challenging market conditions.
