

My partner and I would like to recommend Rob Phillips who recently sold our home. It had been on the market for 8 long months (over a 15 month period). Having been apprised of his reputation as a calm, clear thinker, motivated professional, and excellent, computer-savvy marketer, we were in no way disappointed. Rob was innovative, personable, and focused. Within one month, after reviewing with us what the market could bear, Rob had found us buyers within his own broad client base.

Thanks again, Rob. You rock!
